Hosted or On-Premise Deployment

Innodel Technologies Pvt. Ltd.

Formzi is a Product of Innodel Technologies Pvt. Ltd. Innodel also provides IT Consulting and Software Development Services to Clients Globally.

WHAT IS FORMZI?

'Formzi' is multi-tenant web based platform offering web forms and mobile business apps as a service which enables creating custom forms, streamlining data collections and analyzing data; providing a very efficient alternate to paper forms.

It consists of a web application for administrators to design custom forms, assign to field staff / users and get insights from data collected. The data collected can be consumed in third party app using Formzi Web API and also be exported as a Microsoft Excel file.

Formzi facilitates creating dynamic forms using a drag-and-drop feature, without writing single line of code. It supports almost every control required to create dynamic form to map any business process and even add workflow with functional roles in organization.

With possibility to access forms on any device from anywhere; it streamlines the process of data collection and management. Formzi enables creating wonderful visual insights about products, services, customer, vendors, employees etc. and that leads to right decision making.

BESPOKE DEVELOPMENT

Innodel Technologies specializes in architecting and developing full-scale Bespoke IT Solutions to address distinctive demands with the assurance of creating minimum disruption to the existing technology infrastructure during deployment.
